PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Philadelphia County Medical Society poll of 2,500 doctors disclosed that 925 physicians have recently given up smoking.

Now only 40 per cent of doctors here smoke compared with the 50 per cent plus rate of all Philadelphia adults, Dr. Katherine A. Boucot reported Wednesday.

Dr. Boucot is chairman of the society's committee on smoking and health.

The poll showed more than 300 doctors have switched to pipes and cigars. They still are considered among the smokers.

Jersey To Go Uncommitted

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey Republicans will send an uncommitted delegation to the GOP National Convention and the state's major party Negro candidate for Congress into the 1964 campaign as a result of Tuesday's primary election.

Republican voters gave 40 per cent of their presidential votes to U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, based on returns from half of the state's districts. New Jersey thus followed New Hampshire and Illinois in favoring Lodge in write-in contests among GOP presidential possibilities.

Truax Talks Up Scranton Power

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Craig Truax, Pennsylvania Republican chairman, said Wednesday he has discovered a groundswell of support across the nation for Gov. William W. Scranton as the GOP presidential nominee.

Truax said support for Scranton would become apparent when the Republican National Convention begins its balloting in San Francisco in July. He admitted the growing support to an army of volunteer workers in 20 to 25 states.

Guillotine For Diem's Brother

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A nine-man court has sentenced Ngo Dinh Can, younger brother of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem, to die on the guillotine.

The 53-year-old former overlord of central Viet Nam was convicted on charges of murder, extortion and misuse of power, dict Wednesday.

Women's League Bows To Dixie

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The National League of Women Voters bowed to southern members Wednesday and toned down the wording of what could be the league's first statement on civil rights.

Some 1,200 delegates to the league's 26th annual convention voted to delete the words "equal opportunity" from a resolution suggested by its national board of directors.

NEW YORK (AP) — The discoveries of minerals and oils in Canada continued to provide most of the excitement on the stock market Wednesday but the over-all market trend was irregularly lower.

Trading was fairly active, with volume at 5.42 million shares compared with 5.76 million Tuesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 2.85 to 823.57. (See Stock List, Page 19)

Racial Protests At NY Fair

NEW YORK (AP) — Clamorous racial protests created an atmosphere of commotion Wednesday at the opening of the New York World's Fair. Disorders erupted, one after another, in the mud and rain.

A threatened massive traffic blockade floundered ineffectually, but demonstrators swarmed the fairgrounds to proclaim their grievances and demands. More than 200 were arrested, sometimes after angry scuffles. "Freedom now, freedom now," chanted throngs of Negroes and whites deployed throughout the array of exhibits. Their cries muffled the words of President Johnson, as he declared that the fair symbolizes efforts to achieve "a world in which all men are equal, in which all men are free."

Confronting him across a pool and police barricades as he opened the U.S. Pavilion, was a chanting, rain-dampened group, holding aloft red-and-white signs demanding a "fair share."

While the President spoke, arrests were taking place in many parts of the fairgrounds.

Those arrested included

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality which sparked the outpouring of sit-ins, stand-ins, lie-downs, gate-obstructing and picketing.

The tide of more than 1,000 demonstrators, hemmed about here and there by 5,000 city and private patrolmen, almost obscured the thin trickle of visitors—scarcely 50,000 by noon.

However, the planned "sit-in" by dissident CORE factions to clog highway networks around the fair flopped. Traffic moved at a smooth speed, and the few stalled cars quickly were removed by waiting tow trucks.

But in and around the fair, and on the newly painted blue-and-silver subway coaches leading to it, commotions broke out in steady succession.

Some of the demonstrators struggled with police, as they were dragged off screaming, while companions shouted protests. Several were forcibly handled.

In Washington, Sen. Richard E. Russell, D-Ga., called on Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the Civil Rights Commission to investigate reports of beating of demonstrators in New York.

Monroe NAACP Calls For Pressure On Senators Now

STROUDSBURG—The president of the Monroe County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday took issue with Negro demonstrators at the opening of the World's Fair in New York City.

While thousands of Negroes demonstrated in and around the fairgrounds, Jesse Lynch called on all county Negroes to demonstrate for civil rights by "pressing senators now debating the rights bill for passage of that important bill without any amendments."

He called the New York demonstration "untimely." He said, "Any action that endangers human life is bad."

Lynch said he could understand why a man like James Farmer, national director of CORE, is demonstrating in front of the pavilions sponsored by southern states.

"These fellows are motivated by their experiences. I haven't been exposed to those experiences so it is difficult for me to take a stand on what one person or another does," the Monroe NAACP leader explained.

Reacting to a recent charge made by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of Federal Bureau of Investigation, that the NAACP movement has been infiltrated by Communists, Lynch said:

"This is certainly not the case in our county. I inquire about our prospective members and try to uncover any Communist views in their personalities. I check with NAACP national headquarters and the federal government. I have never found anyone with Communist tendencies."

Lynch listed housing and employment as the two real problems the Negro in Monroe County faces.

Crusade Begins For Prayers In School

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York congressman said Wednesday prayers should be permitted in public schools to make children from non-religious families aware of God.

Testifying before the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., urged Congress to approve a constitutional amendment that would "guarantee permanently the right to pray and read Holy Scripture in the public schools."

Asked by Rep. Roland W. Libonati, D-Ill., why prayers in the home and the church would not suffice, Becker replied that "millions of families do not subscribe to any religion."

The children of such families, he said, are not aware of the existence of God. "As part of their education for life," he said, "the schools must make them aware."

Becker, a Roman Catholic, was a witness at hearings prompted by the Supreme Court decisions banning official prayers and required Bible reading in the schools. He is chief sponsor of a proposed amendment that would permit such religious observances on a voluntary basis.

Souvanna Invited To Take Reins

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma has been invited by leaders of a rightist coup to head a new coalition regime in Laos, a member of their junta said Wednesday.

This startling development came as Souvanna and foreign diplomats opposed to Sunday's coup conferred on the crisis with King Savang Vatthana at the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

The disclosure was made by Col. Etam Singvongsa of the junta, who showed obvious concern over the threat of a withdrawal of U.S. aid unless Souvanna is restored.

"Without aid," Etam told an interviewer, "Laos cannot survive."

There was one hitch. Etam said Souvanna must first resign as premier, something he has refused to do since he was placed under house arrest. After resigning, Souvanna would try to form a new coalition, Etam said.

Dr. Barnes Of WCC To Retire

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, executive secretary in the United States for the World Council of Churches said Wednesday night he will retire by October 1.

Dr. Barnes told the annual meeting of the World Council of Churches that he is retiring on the advice of his physician. Dr. Barnes, who will be 63 in July, has suffered from heart trouble the past two years.

Dr. Barnes also told the churchmen that the ideal of Christian unity has become common place and the former zeal for the movement is in danger of lethargy today.

California Primary Halted Pending Stassen's Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, who wants to make California's Republican presidential primary a three-way contest, won a Supreme Court order Wednesday halting all preparations for the election pending his appeal for a place on the ballot.

Stassen seeks to enter the June 2 California race against Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The temporary stay order was issued by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas at the request of Stassen's attorneys. Stassen is now campaigning in Indiana for support in that state's May 5 primary election.

In Sacramento, California's Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said he will move immediately to fight the court order.

Expressing doubt that deadlines for preparing ballots can be met, he added: "We intend to oppose the appeal both on the merits and also on the practical problems it creates in printing the ballots. Some counties have already printed their ballots."

Stassen was barred from the California ballot on the ground his backers failed to submit the required number of registered voters' signatures.

His supporters contended they had filed more than enough valid signatures, and Douglas was asked Tuesday to stay all preparations for the primary voting, including the printing of ballots, until the full Supreme Court can decide whether to review the issue. About seven million ballots are affected.

In view of the time element, Stassen's lawyers asked for expedited handling by the high court.

There was no indication how soon the court will act. Up for review, if the tribunal decides to pass on the case, would be a decision by the California Supreme Court.

The California court rejected Stassen's appeal for a reversal of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan's refusal to certify his name for the Republican primary ballot.

Jordan contended Stassen's nomination papers were accompanied by the signatures of only 10,000 registered voters, instead of the required 13,702.

A citizens committee working for Stassen's nomination said it had presented 25,000 signatures. The committee said in papers filed with Douglas that county clerks had failed to make a complete examination of all affidavits submitted by voters, and that as a result in hundreds of thousands of instances the signatures of voters had not been taken into account.

Fair's Gate Dismal

NEW YORK (AP) — The billion-dollar New York World's Fair got off to a dismal start Wednesday, beset by a cold, relentless rain and besieged by hundreds of surging, shouting, persistent racial demonstrators. There were 200 arrests as police battled civil rights crusaders.

The fair opened on schedule at 9 a.m. with a brief, sharp influx of thousands of dignitaries and visitors. But by late afternoon, trains bound for the fair were nearly empty.

At nightfall a galaxy of exhibition lights flashed on, their grandeur veiled in fog and low clouds, and attendance mounted slowly to a total of 78,682—far below the anticipated opening-day crowd of 250,000 to 500,000.

The one bright spot in a miserable spring day was President Johnson's speech inaugurating the fair—and even this was marred by chanted demands for broader civil rights.

Plans for a massive traffic stall-in on roads around the fair collapsed in the mist and gloom that marked the opening. Traffic around the fair was only 25 per cent of normal, with the very threat of the tieup perhaps contributing to the poor attendance.

However, rights advocates hailed the other demonstrations in and around the fair as successful. The Congress of Racial Equality, which denounced the stall-in plan but sponsored widespread picketing of fair pavilions, said in a statement:

"You know our demands—meet them! Let this nation know we will not stop, we will not hesitate, we will wait no longer for the freedom which is rightfully and constitutionally ours."

Negro Shot While Holding Hostage

LAKE PLACID, Fla. (AP) — A state senator said Wednesday the hardest decision he ever had to make was to fire two blasts from a shotgun at a Negro who was holding his wife hostage.

The Negro, killed instantly, was tentatively identified as an escaped Georgia convict.

Highlands County Sheriff Broward Coker said description and fingerprint classification compared with those of Willie Hudley Small, 21, a Blakely, Ga., native and convicted auto thief who fled a Dougherty County, Ga., road camp Sunday.

Florida State Sen. Hayward H. Davis, 35, said he shot a pistol-wielding Negro in a hallway of the Davis home on Tuesday as the man gripped Mrs. Davis by the neck and marched her toward a door.

Shooting with his wife so close to the target "was the hardest decision I ever had to make," the sheriff quoted Davis as saying, "but I felt sure he would have killed us and the two children too."

One shotgun charge tore through the Negro's chest and another struck his leg. As the man fell, pistol bullets fired apparently by reflex hit the ceiling and an ironing board.

Every shot missed Mrs. Davis.

Davis said he surprised the man on a return visit to the house, which he had left with Mrs. Davis after trussing up the senator.

The Davises gave this sequence of events to Coker: The Negro came to the Davis home and told Mrs. Davis his automobile was stuck in sand. He left when she told him she couldn't help, and Mrs. Davis then took her son, aged 2½ years, and daughter, 6 months old, bathing at a beach.

The Negro was waiting when they returned home, and menaced them at gunpoint. When Davis arrived, he also was threatened and Mrs. Davis was forced to bind him and push him into a closet. The children were ignored.

The Negro then ordered Mrs. Davis to leave with him in the Davis automobile. They had not been driving many minutes when she persuaded him to let her drive back for her operator's license.

Eastburg Okays $793,000 In Bonds

EAST STROUDSBURG — A negotiated bond issue of $435,000 was accepted last night by the East Stroudsburg Borough Council to finance its share of $793,000 water filtration plant.

The issue will be floated over 30 years at an interest rate of 3.7 per cent. The investment bankers of Blair and Co. Grandberry, Marach, Inc., of Philadelphia handled the transaction.

When the issue matures, in 1994, the borough will have paid $710,000 in principal and interest.

John Deickson, municipal manager of the banking firm, told council the issue will be sold as non-debt revenue bonds.

He explained money to pay for bonds will come solely from water revenue.

In this manner, he explained, the bond issue will not be counted against the borough's indebtedness.

He said the bond issue will constitute a lien against the borough's water system.

Deickson told The Daily Record that present water rates in the borough will be sufficient to pay for the bond issue. He said he expected no increase in rates because of the new construction.

Bids for the project, which will be built in Smithfield Township, totaled $715,840; approximately $27,500 more than the original estimate of $688,000. The federal government is supplying a $343,500 grant toward the cost of the project.

Other costs included in the project are engineering fees, $36,500; legal fees, $5,000; printing fees, $1,500; contingencies, $23,151 and bond discount, $5,700.

The Monroe Security, Bank and Trust Co. of Stroudsburg will act as depository for the bond issue and will charge no fee. Buck, Seifert and Jost of New York City, designed the plant and Townsend, Elliott and Munson of Philadelphia, is the borough's bond counsel.

Strife-Torn Chester's School Shut

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Chester closed its 16 public schools until further notice Wednesday because civil rights demonstrations have resulted in violence endangering the safety of the 11,600 pupils and 200 teachers.

The announcement of the school shutdown was made by Charles D. Long, superintendent of Chester's schools. He said in a statement that he was ordered to take the action by the school board "because there is danger."

Two Negro groups—Committee for Freedom Now (CFN) and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)—have demonstrated almost daily for the past month in protest against alleged de facto segregation.

The school board denies it is fostering any policy of segregation, claims that students attend neighborhood schools, and that the system's one high school has an enrollment of 10 per cent Negro boys and girls.

Negotiators Win Johnson's Praise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced settlement Wednesday night of the 5-year-old railroad work rules dispute.

The settlement, which requires ratification by the five unions involved, removes the threat of a nationwide rail stoppage scheduled to start at 12:01 a.m. Saturday.

"This is a good day for our country," Johnson said in announcing the settlement on a hastily arranged nationwide radio-television hookup.

Brotherhoods Talk
Speaking for the unions, Roy E. Davidson of the railway brotherhoods said the agreement was accepted in principle subject to the ratification procedures of the labor organizations.

"While the agreement falls short of satisfying all the important demands of the employees," Davidson said, "we recognize that significant gains have been made."

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference and chief management spokesman, said the settlement "promises to restore the morale of our 700,000 employees to its highest level and bring a rebirth of the spirit of cooperation between union and management leaders."

"Just And Fair"
Without going into details, Johnson said the settlement terms are "just and fair."

In closing the broadcast, Johnson said he had received a letter the other day from Cathy May Baker of Park Forest, Ill., and said:

"Cathy May, if you are watching tonight, I am pleased to tell you that railroads are going to continue to run without interruption. Cathy May writes me and says:

"Dear President Johnson: 'I am 7. My grandma lives in New York. She is coming to see me make my first holy communion. Please keep the railroads running so that she can come to see me. Thank you.'"

Davidson, speaking of what he termed significant gains for the rail unions, said chief of these is reaffirmation of the 100-mile unit of work, wage adjustment for yard employees, paid holidays for all daily rated employees, and expense allowances for road employees required to be away from home terminals.

Warning Given
Even before Johnson went on the air with his announcement, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., told the Senate that the President was about to announce an "equitable agreement" ending the railroad crisis.

Johnson announced the settlement after returning from a quick trip to New York where he helped open the World's Fair.

The President hailed the agreement as a victory for collective bargaining and industrial democracy.

"But most of all," the President said, "this agreement prevents us from having a crippling and disastrous strike in the railroad industry. This strike, had it occurred, would have put 6 million workers off their jobs, would have decreased our gross national product by 13 per cent, four times the largest decline in any post-war recession—and would have forced a rise in prices throughout the nation."

Now all this is avoided, the President said, and a robust economy can continue moving forward.

For him, it was a great personal victory that will not go unnoticed in an election year.

Johnson said the agreement showed American business and labor operating at its best and at the highest level of public responsibility.

Announcement of the settlement followed days of tense negotiations.

It was also agreed in connection with the wage structure that yard foremen will receive a 12-cent raise to $3.10, yard helpers an 8-cent increase to $2.90, and what were described as commensurate increases in the hourly rates of other yard service employees. These increases were described as inequity adjustments to bring employees paid by the hour closer to wage rates of those who are paid on a mileage basis.

An estimated 50 per cent of the union members in the five unions involved will receive the inequity adjustments.

The unions withdrew their request for overtime pay for road employees. Yard service workers now receive overtime beyond eight hours.

The unions withdrew their request for night shift differential pay for all classes of employees.

The railroad's proposal to combine some divisional train runs, thus lengthening the runs before crews are changed, was referred to a committee composed of the parties and two of the mediators, Dr. George Taylor and Theodore Kheel. The committee will discuss the issue further but will not have the power to make any binding decision. A government spokesman said the issue could not lead to any possibility of another strike threat.

New rules will be established which will enable the railroads to a limited extent to use road crews for certain kinds of yard work. This affects the present rule requiring a separate crew to bring a train into a railroad yard and another crew to handle it there. There will be provisions for special pay for road crews who handle their own train in the yard.

Expressing disappointment with a recommendation by the President's Appalachian Regional Commission for a $3 million annual expenditure on mine problems in eight states, the governor said nearly $20 million annually should be spent in Pennsylvania alone.

He appealed to 100 congressmen, legislators and business and civic leaders to form a Citizens Action Committee to convince President Johnson to increase expenditures in this area.

"It is absolutely vital to Pennsylvania that those recommendations dealing with coal region problems be vastly improved," Scranton said.

The Appalachian commission was formed to make recommendations for a $1 billion program to rehabilitate poverty-stricken areas in the Appalachian Mountain chain stretching from Alabama to Pennsylvania.

Scranton said the commission's report consisted of "little more than some studies and surveys." At the rate of progress recommended two weeks ago by the commission, the governor said, "it would take over 300 years to do what the coal regions need done immediately."

State News Roundup

2 More Teens Held In Killing

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two more teen-age boys have been charged in the slaying of Charles Henry, 84, bringing the total held in the case to nine.

Arrested Tuesday night and charged in the Saturday night killing of Henry were Robert Frazier, 11, and Ernest Alston, also 14, both of Philadelphia.

Police said Frazier also admitted beating Louis Toller, also 84, just two hours before the fatal attack on Henry.

Frazier and Alston were charged with homicide, robbery, aggravated assault and battery, larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy. They were sent to the Youth Study Center.

Legal Expenses For Hoffa Hit

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Demands that Teamsters International President James Hoffa pay his own legal expenses have been made by 12 members of Local 107, part of a dissident group within the local.

The 12 also demand that Hoffa pay back funds already spent for legal fees in his behalf.

If the Teamsters general executive board does not stop paying Hoffa's legal fees, the 12 said in their demands filed with the board, they will sue to halt such payments. The board is the governing body of the international.

Philly Port Closed By Stevedores

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Longshoremen, protesting loading of a freighter by steelworkers, stayed away from their jobs Wednesday in the port of Philadelphia to picket the Fairless works of the U.S. Steel Corp., along the Delaware River in nearby Morrisville.

The so-called "holiday" by some 5,000 longshoremen shut down handling of dry cargo in the vast port facilities. City officials said 41 ships were at piers and eight others were in the river waiting to dock.

In Doylestown, four Bucks County judges granted a preliminary injunction requested by U.S. Steel that forbids mass picketing at the plant.

The order prohibits longshoremen from stopping workers entering the plant, or from interfering with the flow of materials into the giant steelmaking facility.

It also enjoins Local 14, International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots from similar massing at the entrances of the steel mill.

Local 14 seeks to represent deck officers on the SS Columbia, a vessel owned by U.S. Steel.

The picketing this morning prevented about 2,500 AFL-CIO steelworkers from entering the sprawling Fairless works.

Roberts (Democrat)

PITTSBURGH (AP)—It's a safe bet that many people—even in Allegheny County—don't know what a prothonotary is. But there's no doubt about who David E. Roberts is.

Roberts was elected prothonotary in 1943, the first Democratic prothonotary in the history of Allegheny County.

The voters of Allegheny County kept sending him back in office for the next five elections, the last one being in 1963.

The impressive thing is that each time the voters gave the 56-year-old Pittsburgh resident an even greater vote than before. In the last three elections Roberts led the Democratic ticket.

In 1960 he managed the Allegheny County campaign for the late President Kennedy. Kennedy carried the county by 108,000 votes.

Roberts also is a recognized power in Allegheny County's Democratic party.

A prothonotary in simplest terms is a chief clerk of court. Specifically, he is the custodian of legal papers filed in the court of common pleas. He also is legal custodian of financial transactions involving liens on property.

Roberts was born July 17, 1897 in Pittsburgh of Scotch-Welsh-Irish parents. He was one of seven children.

When he was only 13 he was employed by the Tri-State News and The Associated Press as an errand boy. He later became a copy boy and then a reporter.

Primary Race--A Party Fight

One of the most simple definitions of a primary is a party fight. And that's just what takes place at the polls in Pennsylvania next Tuesday.

Though there is only one U. S. Senate seat up for election, there are four hopefuls—two Republicans and two Democrats.

Sen. Hugh Scott, the GOP organization candidate is seeking reelection. He's opposed by Henry MacFarland, a Philadelphian.

Seeking the Democratic endorsement is Justice Michael Musmanno of the State Supreme Court. He's opposed in his bid by Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs and Paul B. Roberts, Allegheny County prothonotary.

Here are the backgrounds on the four candidates prepared by the Associated Press.

Scott (Republican)

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Hugh Scott refers to himself as a moderate Republican because, he says, the term describes a philosophy, not a faction.

"I pursue a moderate course vigorously and in the process I often have to fight against those on the fringes of political sanity who would pull our nation off the extremes of right or left," said the 63-year-old senator.

Scott was first elected to the Senate in 1958 after serving for 16 years in the U.S. House of Representatives from the 6th District of Pennsylvania.

He is a member of the commerce, judiciary, rules and small business committees. He made headlines recently as a member of the Rules Committee investigating outside interests of Robert G. Baker, former aide to the Democrats in the Senate.

Scott charged government officials and Democrats were trying to discredit witnesses and hush up the inquiry. He also made big news in Pennsylvania in February, 1962, when he announced his candidacy for governor of Pennsylvania after being dissatisfied with the ticket presented by a faction of the party.

But he later withdrew. After the faction agreed on William W. Scranton, then a congressman, as a compromise candidate. Scranton went on to win the governorship, and now is considered a possible candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Scott was the only Republican candidate to stem the Democratic tide in the 1958 Pennsylvania election. While the Democrats were winning the statehouse and legislature, Scott defeated Gov. George M. Leader by a 113,000 majority for the U.S. Senate seat vacated by Sen. Edward Martin, also a Republican.

Scott was born in Fredericksburg, Va., but came to Philadelphia many years ago and began his political career as a Republican committeeman in 1928. His public career has continued ever since with only one interruption—in 1944 when he was defeated for reelection to Congress during a sweep of his congressional district by Franklin D. Roosevelt. He served as an assistant district attorney in Philadelphia from 1926 to 1941.

The senator was one of the top-flight strategists in both Richard M. Nixon's bid for the Republican presidential nomination, and his campaign after winning it in 1960.

From 1948 until 1949, Scott was national chairman of the Republican party. He was chairman of the regional organization for the Eisenhower campaign in 1952. And chairman of Eisenhower headquarters committee the same year.

Miss Blatt (Democrat)

HARRISBURG (AP)—Miss Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, found herself in an unfamiliar, if not uncomfortable, position as she bid for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate.

She is a product of organization politics in Pennsylvania, yet found herself doing election battle with the very people who helped her political career to blossom.

Miss Blatt, the first woman ever elected to statewide office in Pennsylvania, acknowledged this fact when she announced that she would seek the Senate nomination. She said:

"It (the decision to run) has... been reached with some reluctance because it puts me at odds temporarily at least with some of my closest friends and associates in political affairs."

Miss Blatt began her active interest in politics while attending the University of Pittsburgh.

In succession, she was named secretary and later chief examiner for the Pittsburgh Civil Service Commission. Later she became assistant city solicitor.

In 1952, she ran for auditor general and lost. Her running mate for state treasurer, incidentally, was the then State Sen. George M. Leader.

Two years later, these same two candidates, with Leader heading the ticket, would sweep the Republicans off Capital Hill, ending a 20-year Republican reign in the governor's mansion.

The third candidate in the three-way race was Allegheny County Prothonotary David Roberts.

Musmanno (Democrat)

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the State Supreme Court has been caught up in the whirlwind storm that is public life for a long time now, but it obviously has had no ill effects on him.

Despite the fact he has lived an extremely busy life, Musmanno is not ready to turn down a fresh challenge. The latest: a fight which could lead to the U.S. Senate.

The veteran jurist is the state Democratic organization's candidate for senator.

The campaign trail is not a strange one to the son of Italian immigrant parents who worked in the coal mines and steel mills of Western Pennsylvania before launching a legal career that put him on the bench at the Nuremberg war crimes trial.

Both sides of the campaign trail—Republican and Democratic—are known to him.

As a Republican, Musmanno was elected to two terms in the State House of Representatives in 1928 and 1930, to the Allegheny County Court in 1931 and to that county's Common Pleas Court in 1933.

MacFarland (Republican)

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—W. Henry MacFarland says "about 19 years of political writing" in which "my efforts have been aimed at limiting government not increasing it" qualify him for the post of U.S. senator.

He is opposing incumbent Hugh Scott for the Republican nomination in the April 28 primary election.

MacFarland, a slender 43 with thinning blond hair and thick gold-rimmed glasses, says his only occupation is editor and executive chairman of the American Flag Committee headquartered in his Philadelphia home.

He formerly headed (in 1951) a group known as the Nationalistic Action League, which the U.S. attorney general described as a Fascist organization.

MacFarland, though agreeing the group was so cited, said, "I defy any of my enemies to prove I headed any kind of fascist group. I don't believe in fascism or totalitarianism."

He said he believes the federal government today is "definitely soft on Communism." He says he opposes the civil rights to the public schools "as it was bill now before Congress, and before the Supreme Court decision that the Bible should be restored to its place."

Johnson Happy About Area Progress

REEDERS — William Johnson of Stroudsburg, Governor Scranton's assistant secretary, told a group of Young Republicans Tuesday night, "That I am happy to return to the Pocono Mountain area and see the obvious progressive changes that are occurring in my home community."

Speaking at a Young GOP membership meeting in Reeder's Inn, Johnson said that he is happy to report that many of Gov. Scranton's proposals have been successfully enacted in law during the last session of the legislature. He said:

"In the area of industrial development, the administration has created a $4 million industrial fund and the committee of 100,000 that are actively promoting an attractive industrial climate in the state."

"Major reorganization and improvement has been accomplished in the professional licensing bureau."

"Liberalized changes have been incorporated in the Kerr-Mills Assistance Bill that have alleviated the restrictions that were unreasonable and discriminatory, insofar as aid to the aging was concerned."

"The Keystone Shortway highlighted the special emphasis on highway building which will see $70 million spent on road construction this spring."

"The Scranton Administration proposes that the Keystone Shortway will be entirely under contract by the end of this administration."

"In the area of public welfare, scores of thousands have been retained and made productive. Removing them from public welfare rolls and producing a saving of over $24 million. But more importantly is helping these people to again grasp

'Dead' Man Still Critical

LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI) — Lancaster General Hospital said Wednesday that John Brinser, 57, pronounced dead but later found to be alive in a funeral home, remained in critical condition.

Brinser was taken to the hospital from the H. William Boyer funeral home at nearby Elizabethtown when Boyer detected signs of life. Brinser earlier had been pronounced dead of a heart attack by a physician.

Peace In Our Time

The World's Fair unisphere—a giant, stainless steel model of the earth, symbolizes the theme of the fair — "peace through understanding."

But the opening day of the New York fair yesterday gave ample evidence that there is not complete peace in our land because there is a lack of understanding between whites and Negroes.

As James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said, the purpose of civil rights demonstrations at the opening day of the World's Fair was to put a spotlight on the difference between "the glitter and fantasy of the World's Fair and the real world of discrimination."

The demonstrations were successful in that effort. There is a vast difference between the world of peace and plenty portrayed at the fair and the world of poverty and anger over discrimination existing a few miles away in Harlem.

It is important for other Americans not to forget that fact in their present enjoyment of peace and relative prosperity.

But the point can be made without demonstrators standing on lunch counters, stopping subways, getting arrested for blocking pavilion entrances, making public disorder and letting blood.

The violent incidents of yesterday, although mild when compared to the full scale riots the country has seen in the last year, did not help the Negro fight for freedom and rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

Worst of all was the loud heckling of President Johnson, a man whom Negroes and civil rights demonstrators should honor and respect for his strong support of the civil rights bill now enbattled in the U. S. Senate.

They should cheer any Southerner, any Texan, any Texas politician who has the guts and moral principle to push the civil rights bill. That is a much more difficult position for Johnson to hold than it was for President Kennedy, a Northern liberal from Boston.

Nevertheless, the disorder of civil rights demonstrators at the World Fair was far less than the disaster that was expected. The proposed stall-in of cars blocking highways to the fair did not take place.

The moderate leadership of the Negro revolution in America actually won the day. It was a moderate protest. The more violent Negro protests predicted for the coming summer, especially if the civil rights bill fails in the U. S. Senate, will make the World Fair demonstration a mild prelude.

And even if the bill does pass in Congress, it will only be a beginning of years of work by millions of Americans towards "peace with understanding" in our own land.

A Step To Arms Control

The announcement by the United States, Britain and Russia that significant cutbacks will be made in production of uranium and plutonium for nuclear weapons is not a sign of even limited disarmament. It is a mild form of arms control.

Disarmament involves destruction of weapons we already possess, or an end to production of new weapons.

The cutbacks in production of fissionable nuclear material reduce future arms and not our present arsenal.

And the fact is that these reductions do not eliminate production of fissionable material for nuclear weapons. They merely reduce production from a level of great excess to a level of moderate excess. We are producing more than we need. So are the Russians and the British.

It is therefore curious that Republican U. S. Rep. Craig Hosmer, member of the Joint House-Senate Committee on Atomic Energy, should call this "unilateral disarmament in action."

He said "it proves that we do not even have to go to a negotiating table to lose our shirts. We can do it by speeches and press releases."

The actions by the United States, Britain and Russia may be unilateral, but they do not disarm anyone. We might as well realize that fact.

The Pentagon assures us that we have a massive numerical superiority over Russian nuclear weapons. We can absorb a first strike and deliver a devastating second blow. We have more nuclear weapons than we need. Reduction in future production will neither disarm nor weaken us.

Comment Of The Day

"It will be interesting to see if a poor boy can still beat a millionaire."—Gov. Orval Faubus (D) of Arkansas who announced he will seek reelection. Millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller is a candidate for the GOP nomination.

Yalu River Idea

After spending a few days in Saigon, Richard Nixon has come home with a formula for winning the war in South-east Asia. The reason we are not winning it now, he says, is that we believe in "Yalu River concepts of private sanctuaries," and for that reason we are preventing the South Vietnamese, who presumably are raring to go, from taking the offensive, from carrying the war into Laos and to the north and of winning the war there.

Mr. Nixon ought to know better, and perhaps he does know better, than to say that the reason why South Vietnam does not win the war in North Vietnam is that the United States won't let it.

The indubitable fact is that South Vietnam is quite incapable of carrying the war successfully into North Vietnam. That is not because we will give it arms. We do give it arms. It is because the South Vietnamese have very little fighting moral and are well aware from experiments that raiding in North Vietnam means almost certain death.

Let us hope that Mr. Nixon is not going to revive at this late date the old chestnut which we used to hear about "unleashing Chiang Kai-Shek" and ask us to believe that victory can be had by unleashing General Khanh.

General Khanh is leashed by the willingness of the large majority of the South Vietnamese to fight on in the civil war. "Hot pursuit" indeed; where are the South Vietnamese soldiers who are hot about pursuing the Viet Cong into the clutches of General Giap?

The truth, which is being obscured for the American people, is that the Saigon government has the allegiance of probably no more than 30% of the people and controls (even in daylight) not much more than a quarter of the territory.

The real and immediate problem in South Vietnam is to prevent a collapse of a weak government which is losing the civil war. That is the paramount objective of the Johnson-McNamara policy - to prevent a bad situation from becoming impossible. It is certainly not a glorious policy, or even a promising one, and it has led high officials of the administration into making commitments that had better been left unmade. But the policy is at least concerned with the reality of the situation, which is the need to prevent a collapse and surrender before there is an opportunity to work out a political solution in the area.

Any other plan for "winning the war" in Southeast Asia must be, if the speaker is being candid and not tricky, a plan for the intervention of the United States with large forces prepared to overwhelm the whole of Indo-China and to confront mainland China itself. All schemes for "interdicting" outside help to the Viet Cong can be carried out only by the United States Air Force. The South Vietnamese government does not have the bombers and could not fly them if they had them in any such enterprise. The enterprise should never be undertaken unless we are prepared to have a large war with China.

In his review of foreign policy on Monday, the President was in effect saying that there has been no material change since the death of President Kennedy. Our relations with Russia, which took a decided turn for the better between the Cuban crisis and the test ban treaty, have continued to improve.

On the other hand, in the areas where President Kennedy had not been succeeding, things are about as they were. This is true of Europe, of Asia and of South America.

There is a pause in Europe and perhaps also in Latin America. This may be in part because new developments have not gone far enough to show what is going to happen, in part because of the coming elections - here and in Britain and in Chile this year, in Germany and France and Brazil next year.

There is a pause in the Far East because the war plans of Messrs. Nixon and Goldwater are unworkable and undesirable, and any other kind of plan is, as Sen. J.W. Fulbright would say, still unthinkable.

This pause permits President Johnson to devote himself primarily to our too long postponed and too much neglected problems.

Today's Last & Least Joke A man and his wife entered Dr. Rainaldo's office. "I want a tooth pulled," the wife told the doctor. "And don't bother with gas or novocaine. We're in a hurry."

"Well, you certainly are brave," the doc exclaimed. "Show me your tooth."

"Henry," she said, turning to her husband, "open your mouth."

'Don't Push Too Hard Comrade'

The Pennsylvania Story

Primary Ballyhoo

By Mason Denison
HARRISBURG — The preferential presidential primary in Pennsylvania makes about as much sense for nonsense as a hill of beans and no one knows it better than the political pros of both parties in the Keystone State.

The write-in or sticker campaign makes even less sense — from the practical political standpoint.

The reason of course is simple: respective party political dictates at nominating convention time determine who or what candidate is to gain Pennsylvania's blessing, not the preferential dribbles that appear on the presidential ballot at the primary.

Write-ins or preferential balloting in Pennsylvania primary elections are so light (comparatively speaking) that they lose their meaning before they even get started.

Additionally the votes are not binding in any sense of the word and in none of the recent presidential primaries have they had any conceivable strategic meaning.

It is true that the inferred meaning from these primaries frequently brews voluminous expoundings from the lay electorate, with collateral attempts to read this or that meaning or inference into the balloting — but to the pros in the business it's a puff that doesn't even draw second glance.

What then, for example, is the purpose of Republican State Chairman Craig Truax in artfully and spiritedly determining that one million "Scranton - For - President" write-in stickers are to be distributed for use in the upcoming (April 28) Pennsylvania primary?

It is good public ballyhoo stunt — and that's about it.

As for any possible effective meaning — it has none.

In those states where the preferential primary has some meaning, a good showing on the part of the Scranton sticker artists hopefully may produce some fetching results, for the moment at least.

It becomes another vehicle to gain publicity for the as yet semi-localized Scranton - for-President movement — and in such a business every vehicle no matter how small always is of some help. It's part of pre-conceived strategy.

It is interesting to note that while Governor Scranton has frowned on this effort in his behalf on the part of Republican State Chairman Truax, the sticker campaign plans continue to move ahead steadily.

This in itself is a rather interesting development in light of Mr. Scranton's continual insistence that he is not a candidate for the GOP presidential nod and will not be a candidate (unless there is a "sincere and honest draft").

Mr. Scranton's "disinterest" in becoming a candidate and his subsequent "suggestion" to Mr. Truax that he stop expending his efforts in his candidacy behalf (including knocking off the upcoming sticker campaign) is rather unique.

It is unique from the standpoint that notwithstanding the gubernatorial remonstrances, Mr. Truax is going ahead anyway.

Generally the state chairman is beholden to the Governor — he isn't "named" officially by the Governor, of course; this chore being handled "officially" by the State Committee.

But the fact remains that the Governor (almost invariably) is regarded as the leader of his party, and that in the case of the state chairman, he determines who shall really hold the post.

It was thus in the case of Mr. Truax — the personal choice of Mr. Scranton. It is therefore inconceivable that Mr. Truax would barge ahead with the publicity-gathering Scranton sticker campaign without the tacit (although non-bellowing) approval of Mr. Scranton — notwithstanding the Governor's public tut-tutting of the Truax move and similar effort in his behalf.

It is ironical indeed that an inconsequential and almost meaningless move such as the sticker campaign should provide the clue as to whether or not Mr. Scranton is really interested in becoming a candidate!

"God Give Us Men!"

God Give Us Men
God give us men! A time like this demands

Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men

Josiah Gilbert Holland
1819-1881

We are indebted to Bill Nixon, Stroudsburg public relations expert, and campaign specialist, for bringing the above to our attention. The words are self explanatory but can be applied to many a situations.

Perhaps it hits home at this time via the coming election. In six days voters will go to the polls to nominate candidates for local, state and national offices.

Unlike "God Give Us Men" or if you prefer — women — we have the candidates before us. It is our duty to pick the men and women who best go with the poem. Maybe the political office aspirants will not reach the perfect letter of the above cries but if a reasonable facsimile is present let's nominate him or her.

"God Give Us Men" can also work in reverse. Those already in office can adopt the creed of Josiah Gilbert Holland who must have seen plenty of ills during his span of life from 1819 to 1881.

The 10 lines of "God Give Us Men" are "thought-provoking. We are sure these are the most of us many times. However, we often fail to put into practice what we know is right."

Tuesday, April 28, could be the day for Monroe Countians to take a step forward morally with some confidence that "God Give Us Men (or Women)"

Over the rocks the Water is rushing;
Released from the chains
Of winter's hold,
Plunging and racing,

Wake up, flowers,
Spring is begun!
Birds are returning

Soon they'll be singing
Full-throatedly, merrily.

The Allen-Scott Report

McNamara Bends

Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary McNamara is now talking out of both sides of his mouth on Senator Goldwater's blistering challenge of the reliability of U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Publicly, McNamara is firmly denying this jarring charge. But privately, he is worriedly endeavoring to soft-pedal a sweeping Senate investigation.

Through intermediaries, the high-powered Pentagon boss, who is acting more and more like a vice presidential aspirant, is appealing to influential senators to "mediate" his dynamite-loaded differences with Goldwater.

A significant instance of this backstage effort is the attempt made to persuade Senator Margaret Chase Smith, R-Me., to act as peacemaker.

Mrs. Smith, like Goldwater, is a member of the Senate Armed Services Preparedness Subcommittee that has launched a full-scale investigation of the hard-hitting Arizona's sensational accusations. Senator John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman, is including in the probe not only the reliability of missiles but McNamara's equally controversial strategic concepts, particularly regarding the obsolescence of bombers.

David McGiffert, assistant to McNamara (for legislative affairs), made the pitch to Mrs. Smith in his behalf.

Obtaining an appointment without indicating its purpose, McGiffert fervently besought her advice and help on resolving the stormy wrangle between Goldwater and McNamara. McGiffert argued the controversy was "getting out of hand," and was not in the best interest of national security because "highly sensitive information" was involved.

"Will you please help us settle this dispute," pleaded McGiffert. "No one but our enemies can benefit from its continuance."

High-Handled As Usual — Although Senator Smith has no particular reason to do favors for Secretary McNamara, she listened sympathetically to McGiffert.

She pointed out she was just as concerned about national security as McNamara, even though he had recently failed to keep her informed about important defense matters and policies affecting her state. She also stressed that she is a member of the investigating committee, and as such has a special interest in getting at the bottom of the explosively conflicting views.

"I'll take what you say under advisement," Mrs. Smith told McGiffert, "and after a thorough study, I'll decide what to do."

It's very possible McNamara may have made up her mind for her by his characteristically inconclusive and discourteous action the very day his legislative assistant was ardently pleading for help for him.

Without any word to Mrs. Smith, that very afternoon McNamara arrived in Maine to look over the Kittery Shipyard, which he is proposing to shut down.

It is Mrs. Smith's vigorous contention that this famous shipyard, with its hundreds of skilled craftsmen, should be kept in operation. As a simple matter of courtesy, she should have been notified of McNamara's visit and invited to be present.

Instead, she was blandly ignored despite the fact that she is a much-respected ranking member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, of the Subcommittee, and at the very time McGiffert was beseeching her help for McNamara, he was disregarding her on a thorny problem of utmost moment to her state.

The domineering Defense boss has good reason to be uneasy about a Senate probe.

Chairman Stennis is not accepting the word of Pentagon officials on the reliability of missiles and other issues. He is sending his own experts to missile sites for first-hand scrutiny. Particularly, they are looking into one missile site in the Southwest where there have been four accidents involving ICBMs.

These probes are checking on whether additional safety and operational procedures are called for; also, whether the missiles themselves need improving.

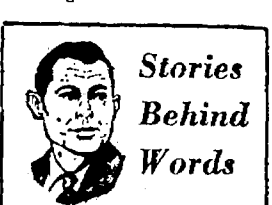

Under Stennis' unannounced plans, a number of top authorities are slated for personal interrogation, among them Central Intelligence Director John McCona, Secretary McNamara, General Curtis LeMay, Air Chief of Staff, and Senator Goldwater.

The investigation also will explore the steadily expanding anti-aircraft missile network that Russia is developing throughout the world.

These deadly Soviet missiles are now installed in Cuba, Indonesia, the United Arab Republic, Red China and, on the basis of late intelligence, in Zanzibar. Cyprus is also reputed to be on Moscow's list for these weapons.

Another factor behind McNamara's growing apprehensions, as well as those of the White House, is inside word that Senator Stennis is contemplating holding his potentially explosive hearings in June — one month before the Republican national convention in San Francisco.

Mrs. Smith, whose 2 6 per cent vote in last week's presidential primary in Illinois enhanced her stature in the GOP race, is in a key position to play a crucial role in these hearings.

Logrolling In frontier America the settler often had to clear wooded land to make way for fields and pastures.

Each man cut his own trees. He chopped off the limbs and piled the smaller ones into heaps and burned them. He cut the tree trunk and large limbs into logs, and then invited his neighbors over to help him roll the logs into piles and burn them.

This particular form of mutual aid was called a logrolling. The name was applied later to a practice in lawmaking bodies.

A legislator might have a pet bill which, ordinarily, would stand little or no chance of passing. He invites other legislators to vote for his bill with the understanding that he will vote for one of theirs. The mutual aid aspect of the legislative practice gave rise to its name—"logrolling."

Listen To Your Parents, Honey

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I am twelve years old. My bangs touch the end of my eyebrows and that's the way I like them. The kids at school like them that way, too, but my Mom and Dad want them cut. I think I should be able to have my hair the way I like it at my age. What do you think?
LORRAINE

DEAR LORRAINE: Even more important than how you wear your hair is obeying the wishes of your parents. BUT, I wish more parents would worry less about how their children wore their hair (as long as it was clean and neat) and worried more about what was UNDER the scalp.

DEAR ABBY: The day after I was married my husband told me that he had paid $500 to have a thorough investigation made of my background because he knew I wasn't telling him "everything." I had done in my life before we met. He was right. I didn't lie. When he asked me, I told him I had made some mistakes, but they didn't concern him. (I had no illegitimate children or previous marriages to hide.) We have been married five months, and a day has not gone by that he doesn't throw something of my past in my face. His greatest pleasure is taunting me about this. I cannot stand the torture any longer.

DEAR ABBY: I have a husband who hates to write letters. Even to his parents. He says he can never think of anything to say. His parents are the type who feel hurt if they don't hear from Sonny at least once a week. Well, they get that letter from "sonny" — but guess who writes it? I do! But they don't know that because I use a typewriter and Sonny signs it. Don't use my name or I'll be in trouble.
SONNY'S WIFE

er. He knew all this a month before we were married, but he kept it quiet until afterwards. I think my marriage was a mistake. We were married in the church. What can I do, short of suicide?

TWENTY-TWO AND MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Run—do not walk—to your minister and tell him your story. It could have a happy ending. Good luck.

Speaking Of Your Health:

Advice For Pinworm

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Pinworm infections of the intestinal tract of children and adults represent a much higher frequency of illness than is commonly suspected.

Even in North America cities where sanitation and public health education is at its highest, 20 to 30 per cent of the general population is infested with the parasite pinworm.

Contrary to popular belief, the pinworm, Oxyuris Vermicularis, has a cosmopolitan distribution and has no special respect for social status, education, occupation or age.

The pinworm is truly a democratic invader. Persistent symptoms of unexplained rectal itching, poor appetite and unusual intestinal discomfort, anemia and even nausea should be investigated for pinworms.

Key To Problem The key to the total problem of pinworm invasion is personal cleanliness. Long after the wonderful new drugs are used to destroy the pinworm, rigid sanitation must be maintained. Adults and children must know that the cycle of pinworm infection can be broken only if infected matter is kept from re-entering the body by rigid cleanliness.

In order to understand the rules for personal hygiene, it is important to trace the onset of pinworm infection. Easily Transmitted Fingers can transmit to the mouth the pinworm eggs from an infected source. The eggs hatch in the human intestine and become small pinworms. Because of the severe anal itch, scratching again contaminates the fingers and the cycle is repeated. Frequently an entire family can be infected. Intensive treatment with new anti-parasite medicines is very effective.

The following set of rules has been established by Dr. Regner W. Kulberg of Oregon for the total elimination of this distressing condition:

- (1) Wash hands and fingernails thoroughly before every meal.
- (2) Scrub hands and fingernails after going to the toilet.
- (3) Keep fingernails cut short.
- (4) Put on clean underclothes every morning.
- (5) Take a bath every night and every morning.
- (6) Keep the house clean and as free from dust as possible.
- (7) Keep the bathroom, particularly the toilet, scrupulously clean.
- (8) Use separate towels for drying the face and the rest of the body.
- (9) Launder the bedclothes every morning.
- (10) Break the following unsanitary habits: Nail-biting and putting objects into the mouth.

Effective Treatment Infestations of the intestinal tract by all varieties of worms and parasites have been effectively treated by chemicals and drugs with remarkable efficacy and safety.

PM Board Awards Bids For Supplies

SWIFTWATER — The Pocono Mountain Joint School Board last night awarded general supply bids for the coming school year totaling $13,454.31. The bids were tabulated and low bid awards were recommended by the Supply and Athletics Committee and forwarded to the joint board last night. The joint board approved all sections of the awards without dissent.

Contracts on general and art supplies totaled $5,735.73. They were awarded as follows: J. L. Hammitt Co., $1,094.42; Garrett Buchanan Co., $1,762.42; Phillips Supply Co., $2,592.40; S. S. Stafford Co., $271.49. For mimeographing and duplicating supplies for the high school, total awards of $1,927.95 were made. They were broken down as follows: Phillips Supply $1,236.95; S. S. Stafford, $395.10; Tamblin Co., $260.10; Garrett Buchanan, $35.80.

For mimeographing and duplicating supplies for elementary schools, the total awards were $589.19. They went to Phillips Supply Co., $485.84; Tamblin Co., $49.85; S. S. Stafford, $22.50.

Paper Towels, Tissues
For paper towels and tissues, the total awards made came to $961.55. Laesser Paper and Supply Co. received an award of $219.50, and West Chemical Co. was awarded a contract for $742.05.

For electrical supplies, Chase Wholesale Electric Co. of Stroudsburg was awarded the contract for its bid of $310.27. This bid was not the lowest, being $51.23 higher than the lowest bid.

The board decided to award the contract to Chase because Chase has agreed to guarantee all light bulbs for one year.

"We won't award them the contract without the guarantee," board secretary David E. Nelson said.

The board agreed with the Supply and Athletics Committee that a guarantee could probably save more than $51.23 over the year.

For soaps, cleaning agents and utensils, under janitor's supplies, contract was let with Scranton Maintenance Co. for $252.93.

Write-In Campaign For Scranton

STROUDSBURG — More than 2,000 write-in stickers boasting Gov. William Scranton for President will be distributed to Monroe County Republicans before the Tuesday's primary.

Harold Kresge, county GOP chairman, said yesterday he hopes to have the stickers in the hands of committeemen before Sunday. He said workers at the polls will distribute the Scranton stickers.

Kresge said he expected Scranton to pile up 300,000 write-in votes in the state in the primary election. "In Monroe County this push for Scranton has been a voluntary thing and the response has been terrific," the county GOP chief said.

He said a million of the stickers have been passed out to party workers throughout the state. "All this started with a big push at the recent national convention of the Republican women," he said.

Kresge admitted it would "be very embarrassing" if another write-in candidate polled more votes than the governor in his home state. Kresge said he expected write-in votes to appear for Goldwater, Lodge, Nixon and all other announced candidates, "but the governor should out-poll their combined total."

Kresge reported the recently appointed Scranton for President Committee has been hard at work boosting the governor's primary prospects. He singled out M. Stiles Baldwin, committee chairman, as doing a "wonderful job."

Mrs. Grace E. Frankenfield

Everett of Stroudsburg; four brothers, A. F. Everett of Lehighton; Benjamin F. Everett of Easton; J. A. Everett of Stroudsburg; Samuel S. Everett of Stroudsburg and one granddaughter.

She was a member of the Zion United Church of Christ of Stroudsburg; the Faithful Workers Sunday School Class; the Women's Guild; and she sang in the church choir for a number of years.

Judge Davis Reverses LCB, Okays Lord's Valley License

MILFORD — The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board's decision to refuse a club liquor license to the Lord's Valley Country Club of Pike County has been reversed in a decision by president Judge Fred W. Davis handed down Monday.

The liquor control board based its refusal to issue the license on the fact that the license quota for Blooming Grove Twp., Pike County, where the club is located, is already exceeded.

Judge Davis ruled that a liquor license is an actual necessity for the club, which he describes in the opinion as "one of the fine clubs of Pennsylvania."

He notes that it would work a real hardship on the million-dollar establishment to require its members to drive distances to purchase a drink.

Complies With Requirements
In his findings of fact, Judge Davis said, in part:

"The establishment proposed to be licensed complies with all the requirements prescribed by the state liquor code and the regulations of the Liquor Control Board."

"Also, the premises to be licensed do not compare in any way with any of the other licensed premises in Blooming Grove Twp. or the general area, with a possible exception of the two other private clubs . . ."

"Also, the facilities offered by the applicant club are finer and better in number, quality and appointment than the facilities of any other licensee ever examined by the investigator for the liquor control board."

"Also, the examiner did not inspect the other licensed premises in . . . the township and therefore, the liquor control board did not have the benefit of the examiner's findings as to their facilities . . ."

"Also, the granting of a liquor license to the applicant will help the organization to grow and establish itself."

Under discussion of the points of law, the judge said:

"It is admitted that the quota of licenses for . . . the township is exceeded. The issue is whether or not a liquor license is an actual necessity for the club."

"In these club license cases it is important to remember that the term 'necessity' relates to club members rather than to the general public."

"One Of Fine Clubs"
"The Lord's Valley Country Club, Inc., is one of the fine clubs of Pennsylvania."

"It is too apparent to gainsay that to require club members . . . to drive more than three miles every time they desire to purchase an alcoholic beverage would be a great inconvenience, if not a hardship."

"To many people, the inability to purchase fine wines to compliment the fine food would substantially diminish the pleasure of dining and in the minds of some would be detrimental to the general welfare of the person."

" . . . an actual necessity for a liquor license (thus) exists, and since the premises are in a resort area, should be granted."

Under the conclusions of law section, Judge Davis stated:

"The refusal of the liquor control board to grant the application was an abuse of discretion."

"The appeal of the country club should be sustained."

Judge Davis then ordered the liquor control board to issue the license.

The law firms of Bensinger and Bensinger, and Krawitz, Gumble and Sigal appeared for the applicant; Attorney I. Reines Skier, special assistant attorney general, appeared for the control board.

Hasty decisions are made that later lead to a lifetime of regret. When selecting your memorial see the

According to police, Swink was traveling west on Rt. 209 and Mrs. Shafer was backing out of a private drive onto the highway when they collided.

Dayton Bank Held Up

DAYTON, Pa. (UPI)—A gunman, clad in a black sweater and sporting a shock of unruly black hair, robbed the Dayton National Bank of an estimated $18,000 Wednesday.

The holdup occurred while only three employees were in the bank. Police said the robber made his escape in a white-colored 1961 Chevrolet, which was believed to have been stolen.

Accident Sends 7 To Hospital

MILFORD — Seven persons were hospitalized yesterday at 1:20 p.m. in a one-car accident, near the entrance to the Blooming Grove Rod and Gun Club, 10 miles east of Hawley, on Rt. 6.

Milford State Police said, Warren Talbak, of Connecticut, driver of the vehicle, was admitted to the Wayne Memorial Hospital in Honesdale for treatment. Also, six passengers in the vehicle were taken to the Wayne Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released, police said.

State Police said the accident occurred on an "S" curve on Rt. 6 when the driver ran off the highway, struck a culvert, bounced back on the highway, crossed over the road, went up an embankment and turned over, police said.

Police added, the car was a total loss.

Draft Board Concerned About 18s Not Registering

STROUDSBURG — Selective Service, Local Board 105 in Stroudsburg, is concerned over the increasing number of young men who become 18 and do not report for registration.

Beulah S. McConnell, clerk of the board, said yesterday:

"There is a continuing responsibility for young men reaching 18 years of age to register under the Universal Military Training and Service Act. A young man is required to register within five days after reaching his 18th birthday," Mrs. McConnell said.

"Failure to comply with the law could result in a punishment of not more than five years imprisonment or not more than $10,000 fine, or both."

"Those young men who are away from their homes may go to any local board in the area where they are situated and register for Selective Service. It is necessary for them to give their proper home address, because the address given will determine the local board having jurisdiction of his case at all times."

Sign Up Late
"In spite of all publicity 'Draft Boards,' or rather Selective Service Boards have been given over the years, most young men register late, after the ridiculous excuse that they and their families 'knew nothing about the Draft Board and didn't know they had to register . . .'" she concluded.

Local Board 105 is located in Room 206, second floor, Stroudsburg Post Office Building, Stroudsburg.

What's so special about Wonder Round Bread?

"Since I brought Wonder Round Bread home my children are eating more bread. But, of course, nutritious Wonder Bread is good for them, so I don't mind buying an extra loaf every week."

"Wonder Round Bread reminds me of the way good bread used to taste. Both the texture and flavor seem far better to me and, of course, the round slices fit perfectly into the toaster."

"I bought a loaf of Wonder Round Bread just for a novelty. But it went over so big that now it's our regular bread. It tastes much better, and I'm convinced it has more flavor."

"We happen to enjoy a lot of round sandwich fillings at our house, so Wonder Round Bread made a lot of sense. And then we discovered that it also has a better texture and flavor."

Candidates For 15th Congressman

(Editor's Note: The Daily Record, with the cooperation of the League of Women Voters of the Stroudsburgs, is presenting a short biography of the candidates in the primary election. Also published are questions asked by the Women's Voters League.)

Congressman from the 15th District
Term: Two years
Salary: $22,500

1. Please describe any additional training and experience you have had which would qualify you for this office.
2. What, in your opinion, should be the U.S. policy on economic aid to the developing nations in Asia, Africa, and Latin America?
3. Do you think there is need for further congressional action on Civil Rights?
4. To what domestic economic problems should the federal government give priority?
5. What national or international problem interests you most?

Candidate
Name: George A. Creitz
Age: 50
Address: Easton

Education: Preparatory education, Schuylkill Seminary, Reading, graduated 1922. College education, Franklin and Marshall in Lancaster, Pa., in 1926. M.A. in 1927. Graduated from Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church in Lancaster with a B.D. in 1929. Honorary member of Phi Delta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Minister of the First United Church of Christ in Easton, since 1931, with a leave of absence during World War II to serve with the chaplaincy of the U.S. Navy; six months in the submarines and 27 months with the U.S. Marine Corps.

1. Active in community affairs as president of the Easton Library Board, member of the board of directors of the Ladies Home on Northampton Street, and former member of the board of the Phoebe Home for the aged in Allentown, chaplain of the Easton Emergency Squad, member of the Easton City Charter Commission, former member of the board of Family Counseling for Northampton County, and of the local Human Relations Commission, and official parole advisor to the Northampton County Prison, the County Juvenile Home and for the State Parole System, participant in the United Fund, Red Cross drive, etc.

Considerable experience in international affairs, as a permanent member of the World Alliance of Churches, with a background of foreign travel including seven trips to Europe, three of them behind the Iron Curtain, and three of them to Africa.

2. In favor of economic aid, on the general principle that rich nations should help poor nations. A secondary reason: if we don't furnish aid, the communists will, and thus gain a tremendous propaganda weapon. I'm skeptical about the administration of such aid, and will do what I can to make certain the money goes where it ought to go.

3. There is much need for further congressional action on civil rights. The proponents of States' rights are using too many specious arguments to contravene the constitution of the United States. Federal legislation is required to bring the States' rights advocates into line with our federal guarantees.

4. Unemployment is the most serious problem. But closely related to it is the need for further federal action toward adequate education for our youth. A third pressing problem is the care of the aged, so they can pass through the years of retirement with dignity as well as security.

5. The problem of freedom for all people. As Lincoln said about our nation, that we can not exist "half slave and half free," so I believe about the world. I regard freedom as more important than peace—although world peace is my second passion.

hills, highway safety measures. Elected to the 88th Congress on July 30, 1963, succeeding the late Francis E. Walter, member of the Veterans Affairs Committee.

2. I believe that both President Kennedy and President Johnson, working with the members of Congress, were on the right track in their concept of the Alliance for Progress. Although there have been some limited successes with this program, and some notable, if unfortunate, failures, the approach is a sound one for Latin America. It is imperative, however, that Latin American nations should begin to accept the burden of land reforms and a more democratic system before we pour excessive amounts of money into them. This is the approach President Johnson is now taking to the problem and I approve of it. Economic aid to the developing nations in Asia and Africa must be carefully and cautiously administered — much more so than it has in the past.

I am a firm supporter of a reasonable program of economic aid because they can help us build a strong alliance of free nations for the future. But we must have far more intelligent administration of such grants if for no other reason than that we have serious economic problems which deserve first priority.

3. Not at the present time in the House of Representatives, no. If the bill passed by the House to guarantee the rights of individuals is approved by the Senate — or has been approved by the time this appears in the newspaper — I believe we have established a decent and workable law for all Americans. The House version of the bill was an excellent one and I am proud to have been one of those who worked for its passage and voted for it.

4. The economic status of one-fifth of America's people is at or near the poverty level. In trying to combat this disgraceful condition, we are now attempting to strike at the roots of the problem — the lack of education, the illiteracy, the absence of skills and vocational training which make it impossible for hundreds of thousands of men and women, especially the young, to get and hold a decent job even when jobs are available. Once upon a time, the prevailing theory in government was that the poverty-stricken should be helped by the government. Today, fortunately, we have outgrown that concept and we know that we must try to help people help themselves in their struggle for dignity and independence. This effort, combined with the overall needs for a strong national defense, good education, and decent health care, is our most badly needed program to combat the most serious economic problem we have.

5. There is only one "international" problem so far as the vast majority of American citizens are concerned and that is the effort to find a workable peace. Despite the brutish wars which have become commonplace, the weekly occurrence throughout the world, it seems, we are making substantial progress toward peace among the nations of the world by maintaining our strength and keeping our heads calm. Short of a shooting war and a nuclear holocaust we must continue to make every effort to protect and preserve our own liberties and the freedom of those who depend upon us. And given no alternative, we must be prepared to wage combat if that becomes necessary and inevitable.

Rooney Sees Action Soon Fire Companies Tax Bill

BETHLEHEM — Congress- man Fred B. Rooney said yesterday that action on his bill (H.R. 10001) to exempt volun- teer fire companies from pay- ment of income tax will prob- ably be taken by the Ways and Means Committee "just as soon as hearings on the Medicare proposal are completed."

Rooney said that, contrary to allegations made by a primary election opponent for the Demo- cratic 15th District nomination, "I wrote to Congressman Wil- liam Mills two days after the bill was introduced on Febru- ary 17 asking for a report on the bill and urging Chairman Mills to expedite hearings on it as rapidly as possible."

"Chairman Mills assured me that H.R. 10001 will be given the earliest possible considera- tion and I have been assured, also, by the remaining mem- bers of the Ways and Means Committee that full opportunity for testimony will be afforded in public hearings," Rep. Ro- ney said.

"I have no idea where my opponent is getting his errone- ous information concerning this bill or other matters on which he has been equally misin- formed, but when he says that Rep. Wright Patman is 're- sponsible' for having the Inter- nal Revenue Service audits and collections suspended he is totally wrong," Rooney said.

"As a matter of fact, it was Rep. Patman who was respon- sible for the I.R.S. audits and collections, indirectly, in the first place. It was Rep. Pat- man, a distinguished member of the Congress, who conspired for the crackdown on non-profit organizations nationwide," Rep. Rooney said. "Early in 1963, Rep. Patman initiated a cam- paign in which he charged that large, national foundations were using their tax-exempt status as non-profit organizations to invest funds and escape tax payments."

"I said at the time that H.R. 10001 was introduced that I am fully in favor of Congressman Patman's crusade against the huge, heavily-financed founda- tions which have been mis-us- ing their tax-free status," Ro- ney said.

"But I felt at the time — and I feel now — that the Internal Revenue Service placed far too broad an application on the in- tention of Congressman Patman's desire to restrict the tax ex- emptions of non-profit organiza- tions. Certainly no one — not the Congress or the I.R.S. or any local municipality — could want to see the activities of America's hundreds of volun- teer fire companies cut down or destroyed," Rooney said.

"The fact is that H.R. 10001, the bill I have introduced, was the first effort to put fire com- panies and other volunteer or- ganizations which perform pub- lic services on perfectly sound legal grounds in their effort to remain self-sustaining," Ro- ney said.

"Since the bill was introduced on February 17, I have re- ceived inquiries from 36 other members of the Congress who have expressed interest in spon- soring similar or identical legis- lation," Rooney said.

"More important than this, the bill has received the whole- hearted backing of volunteer or- ganizations from all over the nation — and especially strong support from our own great fire companies here in the 15th Con- gressional District," Rooney said.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A state of emergency de- creed last mid-October to stop demonstrations was extended indefinitely this week by Pres- ident Joseph Kasavubu. All pub- lic meetings are banned, and civil courts are replaced by military tribunals.

Pealer is employed at the Bethlehem Steel plant in the rolling mills and open hearths. He is a member of the Palette Club in Bethlehem and has ex- hibited at the Bethlehem Hotel and exhibits at Southern Lehigh High School.

His hobbies other than paint- ing are photography, electron- ics, and philosophy.

Mrs. Kenawell, is the mother of two children and wife of asstant professor William Ken- awell of the Social Studies De- partment at East Stroudsburg State College.

She is a registered nurse but always wanted to paint. Having training in high school, she be- gan three years ago as a stu- dent at the Pocono Art Center.

During this time she has painted over 40 oil paintings. She has explored realistic, paintings and abstracts, and has developed a series of paintings deriving her forms and colors from rocks and nature.

AFTER 35
REAL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

If you're over 35 and you feel grouchy, out-of-sorts — your trouble may be due to constipation caused by a slowed-down system. The laxative you're used to may no longer be best for you. Try SERUTAN, the all-vegetable laxative and especially made for folks over 35. SERUTAN provides the peristaltic stimulation to wake up your slowed-down system. This is entirely different from pills, salts or oils. SERUTAN acts like the naturally laxative hydrogel in fruits and vegetables to bring real relief from constipation. So, after 35, take SERUTAN daily to help stimulate your slowed-down system to more normal regularity. Remember, when you read SERUTAN back- wards, it spells nature's.

Just Between Us—Calendar

By Bobby Westbrook

Belgrade—People are the most important thing in any place, and we have met some fascinating ones, not excepting my own family and the reason we are here. In addition to Shirley and Joe and their younger daughter, Robin, who is 13, the household includes:

Marija, the dumping of a maid with a sweet smile, black hair, brown eyes and a peachy and cream complexion who seems hardly old enough to have a daughter who was married last Easter in a "two-accordion" wedding which has much more status than a one-accordion. Having worked for Americans for seven years, she speaks English beautifully with the slight Southern accent of her first employers from Georgia.

Katica, the cook, is Hungarian and kissed our hands when we were introduced, which is a little startling. We felt like reversing the process, however, after we had eaten the soup she had prepared for our lunch, a soup she had been making since 7 a. m. It was a miracle of flavoring and so was the dessert—a puff pastry that took two pounds of butter and yet was as light as thistledown so you felt it couldn't have any calories at all.

Then there is Tonia, the handsome youngmeister, who tends the garden, washes the car, and puts on a white coat to serve at dinner. He is a peasant boy who has just completed his army service. In Yugoslavia, a boy who has graduated from high school needs to give only token service in the Army. A boy who has not graduated from high school has to serve two years, during which time, in addition to his military duties, is taught to read and write, if necessary; to work with mechanical things, and use inside plumbing, electric lights and other adjuncts of civilization. Nobody, I'm sure, had to teach Tonia to be charming.

This seems like a large household to one fresh from considering a cleaning woman once a week a luxury, but we soon discovered why they are all so necessary. In the foreign service, an important part is the person-to-person public relations, bringing together in the informal atmosphere of a home people of the two countries with mutual interests in agriculture, art, conservation, smug control or whatever.

On the day we arrived, Joe had 16 men evenly divided between Yugoslavs and Americans, for lunch. The day after we arrived the Wheelers had a buffet reception in honor of Robert Lincoln, newly-appointed assistant director of U. S. A. whose territory is Western Europe. All of the staff of the United States Information Service and their wives came, which gave us a wonderful chance to meet them at their best, which is very, very good.

As guests, this is pure gravy. But maybe doing our own dishes, cooking, entertaining when and whom we want, is less drudgery than being forever gracious, tactful and carrying on pleasant conversations in such an elusive language as Serbian.

The Wheelers, however, thrive on it, and everybody had a wonderful time. Besides they have a hidden asset in Robin, who is a one-girl diplomatic corps all by herself. The after-school gatherings are just about as people-to-people a good will project as you can get.

They play the piano and guitar and sing and listen to American records. They chatter like magpies—but since it is all in Serbian I can only assume that it is the same sort of talk that teenagers love anywhere.

There are, I have discovered, Serbian equivalents of "The Beatles." Every Sunday night Robin and her "gang" go to a club, taking their instruments, and there they perform. Four of them are of good that they have played on Belgrade's television and are going to London to perform there. Which serves London right after all the "Beatles" ballyhoo we went through.

In case the find spreads to America, I'd better learn how to pronounce their names. They are "The Iskra."

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

I really started something Tuesday morning when I mentioned over the air that our Coat and Suit department had slashed prices drastically the previous afternoon with 60.00 and 65.00 suits going at 24.99, and 40.00 and 45.00 suits going for 12.99. "Even in yesterday's dreadful weather the news spread," I remarked, "and it was amazing how many were sold... they literally walked off the racks. But there are still a number in all sizes, so if you are interested, drop everything and come in."

Not only did our customers come in, they apparently did drop everything. One woman said she hopped right off the floor, where she was stretched out "Exercising with Gloria," slipped a skirt and blouse over her exercise tights, and headed for Wyckoff's. Another woman said, "I never even combed my hair or powdered my nose... I just jumped in the car and here I am." Still a third said, "I'm embarrassed to death at looking such a mess, but why don't we do this more often? I wish you announced a terrific buy like this every morning." (Her husband wasn't along, so I'm not sure how he'd feel about such a thing.)

In the afternoon, the telephone rang in the Keystone Room where Claude Miller and I were helping the Home Economics girls set up their clothing exhibit, and a breathless customer told me she was absolutely delighted with her purchases, and "grateful from the bottom of my heart that you told about the markdown. I bought a coat, a suit, and two bathing suits, and I'm thrilled to death."

All I can add is that if these customers get as much wear out of their suits as I've had from my two suits, they'll be thrilled for the next several years. A good suit never seems to wear out, or to go out of style... and ever, woman should have at least one.

Meeting Marty Baldwin leaving our advertising department the same afternoon, I heard another story that gave me pleasure. It seems that years ago (Marty says at least 20 or 25) he purchased some shirts from our store. I think he called them "hi-los". At any rate, they were 10.00 at that time, and he says, "I'm still wearing them. The collar points are a bit longer than the style now, but they are still beautiful shirts. Whenever Jack Kerlin or Bud Altman sees me wearing them, they comment upon it—but they still look good, so I keep them in my wardrobe."

It is with merchandise as it is with people. Quality is always quality, at any age... Just as a thoroughbred is always a thoroughbred.

I am always delighted to see the many beautiful and interesting things made by the young women of our high school and the high schools in outlying areas of this and adjacent counties, as displayed at the annual Wyckoff-Sears Home Economics Exhibit. We have been setting up our display of the fashions these girls have made today (Tuesday) in our Keystone Room, and many of the suits, coats, dresses and other varied garments are tailored with a neatness and precision more mature seamstresses might envy.

This year all of the participating girls will have an opportunity to model, thanks to the space afforded by Wyckoff's Keystone Room, where the garments are now on display. Approximately half will appear Friday evening at 7:30; the others, Saturday at 3:30. At 8:30 Friday, also in the Keystone Room, "Papa" Wyckoff will present awards of more than $400 in cash from Wyckoff's and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. Do plan to attend!

It's Curfew Time

LOS ANGELES—Bobby Bragan wasn't looking for blood. Encouraged with his team in Los Angeles, he received word from Houston that Warren Spahn and a third string catcher named Phil Roof had been arrested with six other persons for taking a drink after hours.

Each paid fines of $10 to the city and Bobby wasn't disturbed, no doubt figuring that Houston needed all it could get to pay for that $22 million domed stadium.

Now a reporter had Bragan on the telephone. Asked to comment on Spahn, he replied:

"This man is almost as old as I am. If this is the way he wins 20 each year, I wouldn't date change him."

Turning to this correspondent, Bragan, a tactician, then remarked, "There's nothing serious about a guy taking a beer after one in the morning. I just wish the boys had told me in Houston that they had been arrested so I would know the pitch."

Bobby picked up the telephone to call young Roof at the Sheraton-West Hotel, where the team was stabled. The roommate, Len Gabrielson, answered.

Roof was spending the night with relatives in Pomona, Bragan was informed.

"If you want to do your roomie a favor," said Bobby, "You'll get hold of him and tell him to get back to the hotel. No one spends the night out around here unless he tells me or Dan Davidson (the traveling secretary)."

"I don't know where to reach him," said Gabrielson.

"He's gonna pay," answered Bobby, now suppressing some strong emotions.

It was 11 p. m. Bragan then phoned Spahn. The pitcher was out.

"I got a hunch two guys are gonna pay," said Bobby.

It was, in truth, a stroke of remarkable clairvoyance on the part of the manager, because neither Spahn nor Roof got back to the hotel that night.

"If Spahn has got relatives out here, too," said Bobby the next morning, "he never told me about it. He is fined as of this minute."

"What's more, I am also invoking a curfew policy which I have tried to avoid. Everyone hereafter must be in bed after night games two hours after the bus returns them to the hotel. After day games, the curfew is 1 a. m."

Anger flashed from Bragan's eyes.

"I don't burden my ball players with rules," he snapped. "But I'm no pigeon, either."

Bobby confided that he makes only three basic demands of his athletes.

"First," he says, "I won't tolerate stupidity or indifference on the field. During the spring, for instance, I kicked a player for going into third standing up, instead of sliding. The fine was $25. During the regular season, it would have been $100."

"Second, I won't permit players to embarrass the club off the field. If a guy is walking around a hotel lobby with a beer in his hand, the fine is automatic."

"And last, I won't permit the boys to play cards in the clubhouse. If a couple of people are missing during practice and we need them to slug balls in the outfield, I don't want to find them playing in the locker room."

Bragan recalls leveling only two fines last year. During the period of the balk argument in the National League, he placed a bounty of $50 a balk on his pitchers. In no time at all, Bob Shaw ran up a tab of $250. Tony Cloninger's bill was $100.

However, when the bulk rule was rescinded shortly thereafter, Bragan refunded the money.

Only once in the past has Bobby shown such leniency after deciding to proceed with a fine. As manager of Spokane in the Coast League, he brought his team one day to Phoenix where the temperature was well over 100.

The players gasped for breath. The dugout was so hot that they lay on the concrete in the runway. Complaints ran heavy. Bragan blew up.

"It's just as hot for the other team as it is for us," he roared. "The next guy that moans pay me $25."

The following inning, Art Fowler, who was pitching for Spokane, came into the dugout, sweat pouring from his face. He threw down his glove.

"It's hot!" he screamed. Then noticing Bragan in front of him, he added quickly, "Just the way I like it."

The fine was withheld, but Spahn doesn't figure to get as lucky.

Northern Dancer In Final Warmup

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Northern Dancer, Canada's hope for its first Kentucky Derby crown, will make his final prep for the May 2 classic Thursday in the $25,000-added Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland.

Four other Derby eligibles, none of them a particular threat to the Dancer, will go in the 1 1/2 mile Blue Grass. Each hopes to show enough steam here to earn a Derby start.

Northern Dancer will be ridden by Bill Hartack.

Entered against the Dancer in the Blue Grass, which will gross $29,550 if all start and will give the winner a $19,207 purse, are:

Prince Davelle, G. M. Holtzinger's Arkansas Derby winner with earnings of $21,375 so far.

Cardinals Edge Dodgers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers lost their seventh consecutive game Wednesday night, bowing to St. Louis 7-6, and suffered an additional blow by losing the services of ace left-hander Sandy Koufax.

Koufax, the National League's Most Valuable Player and a 25-game winner for the Dodgers last season, was forced out of the game after pitching only one inning. He is being flown back to Los Angeles for examination.

Koufax has an elbow inflammation and a slight muscle tear in his left forearm according to the Cardinals team physician, Dr. C. C. Middleman. Dr. Middleman estimated that Koufax would miss one or two pitching turns.

Koufax, a 28-year-old left-hander, had a 25-5 record last year for the Dodgers with a brilliant 1.88 earned run average. He pitched two victories over the New York Yankees in the Dodgers swept the World Series in four straight games.

School's 'Most Natural'

Glenn Bisbing Selected Area 'Brite Star' Athlete

STROUDSBURG—Earl Groner, superintendent of Stroud Union school district, calls him "the most natural athlete we have ever had at the school."

He was referring to Glenn Bisbing, 17-year-old senior who has won 12 letters in three sports—baseball, football and basketball.

Glenn is this week's winner of the Brite Star award, emblematic of the top athlete in the Pocono-Slate Belt area.

He was selected for batting 3-for-3 last week against Pleasant Valley—including a home run—while hurrying shutout ball in a two-inning relief stint in which he fanned five batters.

The six-foot, 183-pound athlete is a four-letter winner in his three sports at Stroud Union. Baseball, he says, is his favorite sport.

Glen says his biggest thrill in sports came last year when he played shortstop for the Eastern All-Stars against the U. S. All-Stars in Yankee Stadium.

He batted 2-for-3 that day, including a double down the leftfield line which fell only 15 feet short of entering the stands for a homer.

A .300 Hitter

He batted .315 last year overall for the Mountaineers of Stroud Union and also played American Legion ball.

A B-minus student, Glen expects to attend Rider College in New Jersey which has offered him a baseball scholarship. Although he says his future is "not sure" he will major in math.

Asked about the possibility of baseball as a career, he says he is still uncertain. He adds simply, "It all depends."

Glen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bisbing Sr. of 712 Scott St., Stroudsburg.

Giants Slam Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Willie McCovey, going into the game with an .080 batting average, hammered three home runs for San Francisco as the Giants spoiled Milwaukee's home opener with an 8-6 victory Wednesday.

McCovey's homers came in succession, off three different pitchers, tying the modern National League record. Bobby Love of the 1894 Boston Nationals, Lou Gehrig of the 1932 New York Yankees and Rocky Colavito of the 1959 Cleveland Indians, share the all-time major league record of four homers in succession in one game.

All told, nine players have hit four home runs in one game.

McCovey, now with four home runs this season, missed an opportunity for a fourth successive homer in the eighth inning when he was struck out by relief pitcher Billy Hoft, a south-paw.

McCovey's power overshadowed a pair of homers by Milwaukee's Joe Torre, who helped drive former teammate Bob Hendley from the mound in the sixth.

Twins Edge Senators On Passed Ball

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Rookie reserve catcher Mike Brantley's passed ball with two out in the eighth inning gave the Minnesota Twins their winning run in a 7-6 triumph over Washington Wednesday.

Zoilo Versalles dashed home with the winning tally after he walked on a 3-2 count with two out and streaked to third on Bernie Allen's single to right center.

The Senators had rallied to tie it in the top of the eighth on Bill Skowron's third home run of the year and Chuck Cottier's sacrifice fly.

Banks Is On Beam After Worst Season

GIANT OF GIANTS - - - By Alan Mauer

IF A POLL WAS CONDUCTED TO NAME THE OUTSTANDING BASEBALL PLAYER DURING THE PAST DECADE AND THIS FELLOW'S NAME WASN'T AT THE TOP OF THE LIST OR THEREABOUTS THERE'D PROBABLY BE AN INVESTIGATION.

WILLIE MAY'S IS THE NAME, BUT IT'S TEN YEARS SINCE THE SAN FRANCISCO STAR WAS NAMED MVP OF HIS OWN LEAGUE. HE'S AS OVERDUE AS RUSSIA'S U.N. BILL.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Banks, once one of the most feared sluggers in baseball, appeared to be back on the beam after a year in which he hit rock bottom. But the change goes much further back than mere statistics.

The 33-year-old Chicago Cub first baseman is a picture of health today with an attitude to match. This is a far cry from a year ago when a mysterious ailment not only sapped his strength and stamina but did things to his mind.

Case Of Mumps

It was months before the doctors finally diagnosed Banks' ailment as sub-clinical mumps, a disease that affected his blood stream and left him tired and weak.

Until then, Banks feared the worst. Even then he refused to be reassured, thinking the doctors were hiding the true nature of his illness. It wasn't until he received the good word at Mayo Clinic that he believed.

The wonder is not that his batting average skidded to a career low of .227 but that he managed to hit 18 home runs and drive in 64 runs.

Leads In RBIs

While his current batting average is below .300, Banks already has smacked a pair of home runs in six games and leads the club with nine runs batted in.

"I'm confident I can deliver this year," he said. "I'm strong and healthy and in a perfect frame of mind. Last year I was down mentally as well as physically."

"It was a disappointment to the club and to myself. They had a great season and I was not a part of it. If I had hit anywhere near what I have in the past, we would have finished higher."

I feel I've got something to make up for. The club was kind, considerate and patient with me. I want to repay them this year. And I can do it by having one of my old years—something like 40 home runs, 100 runs batted in and a .300 batting average."

Lane To Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., a ranking lightweight contender, has agreed to box Stoffel Steyn, lightweight champion of South Africa, May 7 at Johannesburg.

E.S. Golfers Extend Win Streak

WILKES-BARRE — East Stroudsburg State College yesterday stretched its golf win streak to 13 by trimming Kings College, 13-5, and Mansfield, 14-4, in a tri-meet at Wyoming Valley Country Club.

The ESSC medal scorers were Roger Stern and Warren Landis 78, Dick Kleh 88, Dave Fetterolf 82, Jay Barniak 86, and Dick Gerlach 89.

Stern, who remained undefeated for the season in five matches, recorded two birdies, while Landis and Kleh each birdied once.

Nazareth Sets Sunday Races

NAZARETH — A powerful list of modified stock cars, from tracks across the Atlantic seaboard, will pour into the Nazareth Fairgrounds Sunday at 2:45 p.m. for a resumption of classic competition which was interrupted last week by rains.

The modifieds, which will be part of a double-header show, jammed into the Nazareth pits before the rains last week and when the handicapper stopped counting he had nearly 50.

Co-favorites on the program are Frank Schneider, winner of two features, and Jack McLaughlin, the point leader.

Four active players in the National Hockey League have played in more than 1,000 games. They are Gordie Howe and Bill Gadsby of Detroit, Red Kelly of Toronto and Doug Harvey of New York.

Lutherans Plan Laity Education

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A new, uniform Christian education curricula is scheduled for introduction in the Lutheran Church in America Sept. 13.

Lutheran leaders call it their "long-range" project for a better-educated laity.

The new course is contained in 100 textbooks. Altogether there will be 423 different texts, manuals and printed resource materials, and 109 related filmstrips and records.

Eight years in the making, the project involved writing, rewriting, editing and the production of graded textbooks and materials.

The Lutheran church in America comprises 6,200 congregations with 3.2 million members.

French Blase On Nuclear Cutback

PARIS (AP)—French officials were inclined this week to shrug off the U.S.-Soviet agreement cutting back the production of materials for nuclear arms.

Paris sources said the agreement seemed to have little practical meaning except to show that Washington and Moscow are talking to each other again.

This restrained reaction was in keeping with President Charles de Gaulle's policy of staying aloof from big power nuclear accords while developing French atomic weapons and planes and ships to carry them.

Snyder Takes New Jersey PR Position

BELVIDERE, N.J. — Gerald A. Snyder, a Social Studies teacher at Belvidere High School for the past 10 years, has joined the professional staff of the New Jersey Education Assn. in Trenton.

As an NJEA staff member of the Public Relations Division, Snyder will work on legislation and statewide campaigns to upgrade education in New Jersey. He now resides in Trenton and his family plans to move down in the near future.

NJEA is the professional organization for New Jersey's teachers, with over 32,000 active members and another 2307 associate members. It works with the state legislature, other New Jersey organizations, school groups and local teacher associations to improve school conditions throughout the state.

Snyder, 33, taught in New York State and Pennsylvania before coming to Belvidere. When he resigned last month, he was president of the Belvidere education association.

Twice popularly elected chairman of the Monroe County Republican committee, Mr. Snyder was an unsuccessful candidate for the Pennsylvania general assembly in 1962.

He is a veteran of World War II; earned a bachelor of science degree in 1949 at East Stroudsburg State College and a master of Art degree in 1961 at Lehigh University. He was named to "Who's Who in the East" in 1959.

Snyder is a former resident of East Stroudsburg.

Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet makes roads feel as smooth as the maps they're printed on Run your finger over a map and find yourself a place to go. That's a preview of how it feels to get there in a Chevrolet.

We've put what we think is the best suspension system in its class under this great highway performer. A big husky coil spring at each wheel and double-action shock absorbers to soak up bumps. Over 700 sound deadeners throughout the chassis and that spacious Body by Fisher to blot out noise from road and wind.

There's a lot of other Jet-smooth luxury, too. FOR THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMERS

Wide seats with foam-cushioning front and rear. Luxurious wall-to-wall deep-twist carpeting (this year it comes with even the lowest priced Biscaynes). A choice of seven great engines, all precision-balanced for smoother running, with four smooth-shifting transmissions to match. Everything that makes Chevrolet the great highway performer it is.

So get out those road maps. And wherever you go, get off to a good start—during Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Old Business But Modern Techniques Being Used

By Jim Shafer
State Belt Reporter

BANGOR — "The business of dyeing and finishing is old but there are many modern techniques being employed by firms. Such is our case, LeRoy Jehu, executive vice president of Blue Ridge Textile Co. in Bangor, said yesterday as he noted expansion programs at the State Belt plant.

Jehu was referring to the new $200,000 warehouse built by the firm in back of its present location on Kline St.

The warehouse is 140 feet long and 120 feet wide. It is unique in that it is 34 feet high and has no support except from the walls.

The design called for special plans for steel construction. Pruden Steel Co. in Wisconsin came up with the necessary steel beams to give the support the roof needed.

After studying four bids for supplying this building material, the contract was given a local supplier, Bangor Lumber Co. Then in September 1963 U-tana Brothers Construction Co. of Pen Argyl began work on the new structure. It was completed in December of that year and the textile firm began using the new warehouse.

"The purpose of the building is to store goods sent in to us from our other outlying plants."

Pen Argyl Man Aiding Fund Drive

PEN ARGYL — John T. Dalry of 437 Broad St., Pen Argyl, is working with a group of 37 men from area counties on a leadership committee to help raise five million dollars for Lafayette College.

The areas include all of Northampton County except Bethlehem and Hellertown; all of Warren County, northern Hunterdon County and southern Monroe County. Victor M. Ancelet of Easton is general chairman of the local campaign.

At least 20 additional regional campaigns in areas throughout the nation will be conducted by Lafayette, beginning in the fall, the chairman added.

The present campaign for five million must reach its goal by June 30, 1966 if Lafayette is to receive the full two million dollar gift from the Ford Foundation, according to the terms of the challenge grant.

NAACP Unit Plans Project

STROUDSBURG — A car wash will be sponsored by the Youth Council of the Monroe County Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People at Torry's Amoco station on N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Lester Ray, youth council president, said proceeds from the car wash will go toward the national chapter's Freedom Fund.

It arrives at the unloading docks and is then placed by a stacking crane, until we receive an order for it," Jehu said.

"When the order is called the goods is taken from the storage stack by a large electric crane, which travels the entire length and or width of the building, brought to a position where the many small pieces of goods are sewed together.

"After this operation is completed the goods starts its way through the dyeing and finishing process and stops at a finished piece of goods. That is after the process of dyeing and finishing are completed the goods, some more than 1,000 yards long, are cut into rolls about 100 yards long. This is done to aid in handling the material both in the plant and for shipment," he said.

Zacharias On Dean's List

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA — Joseph H. Zacharias, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, has been named to the Dean's List at Indiana Institute of Technology for compiling a grade average of 3.0 (B) or better last quarter.

Zacharias, son of Mr. Joseph H. Zacharias, 468 North Courtland Street, East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, is a sophomore in the Department of Chemical Engineering.

Indiana Tech, with an average enrollment of 1500, is a private, nonprofit, co-educational institution of higher learning, and is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The college offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in the major areas of engineering and in mathematics, physics, and chemistry.

Philly Gets Cold Storage

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A $2 million cold storage warehouse will be built in the city's food distribution center, it was announced recently.

U.S. Cold Storage of Philadelphia, Inc., a subsidiary of American Consumer Industries which operates 20 cold storage warehouses throughout the country, says it has negotiated with the center to build on a 12-acre tract.

The firm was founded in 1937 by the late Max Winkler, and the business is now carried on by his son, Bill, and his son-in-law, Bill Scott.

It now employs more than 350 persons, 12 of whom work in the new warehouse.

The warehouse is not complete, but production as well as construction work continues. When completed the new warehouse will resemble a continuous chain — new goods coming in will be stored, with the aid of a conveyor belt mechanism and the stacking crane, stored material will be taken from the stacks and started on its way towards the dyehouse, finishing room, inspection stations, and shipping room.

"The new building is the result of our growing pains and is a step in building or helping to build a bigger and better Bangor — a community where people can be proud to work, live and rear a family.

"To encourage progressive action of businesses in a community, the community, itself, has a responsibility and must be willing to be progressive. For instance our demands for water are continually increasing.

"Last fall, during the drought, there was not enough water for our processing. To keep operating, we carried in milk tankers more than 150,000 gallons of water every 24 hours.

"Since then, the Bangor Water Company has planned and has started on an expanded supply program. We congratulate the Bangor Water Company for their progressive attitude.

"We are also pleased with the progressive thinking of the town council and with the newly formed chamber of commerce," Jehu concluded.

White lines hold the road like a Wide-Track Pontiac.

If this Wide-Track Pontiac Catalina clung to the highway any closer, it'd be a coat of paint. Pitch and sway, Wide-Tracks don't. They corner flat, through high-speed turnpike curves or vicious backroad S's. (They also turn corduroy roads to gabardine.) Why sit here yearning? You could be out driving a Catalina yourself. GOP Wants 'Myth' Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders called on President Johnson to end what they termed the fiction that Americans are not actively engaged in fighting in Viet Nam.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana told a news conference Tuesday that the American people do not know what is going on in Viet Nam.

"Let's have the whole brutal business out on the table and let the American people see what it is," Dirksen said.

The millionaire is Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, and a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Arkansas.

The stage is set for the state's first real two-party political fight since Reconstruction.

Faubus' announcement surprised no one. He has indicated for months that he would run again.

The critical election in his career came in 1958 when segregationist support in the wake of the Little Rock integration crisis broke an anti-third-term tradition. He polled almost 70 percent of the Democratic primary vote.

Normally the Democratic nominee is assured of election in Arkansas, Rockefeller charged that. Now Faubus and most political observers believe that the big fight this year will be in the general election.

Two political unknowns have filed against Faubus in the Democratic primary. Rockefeller has no opponent and none is expected on the Republican side.

Faubus was born in a creek-side cabin in the Arkansas Ozarks, the son of a scrubby farmer. Rockefeller is the son of one of America's richest families.

But the political advantage will be with the poor boy. Faubus was a highly efficient political organization, he has the experience of five campaigns and nine years in office behind him. And he is a Democrat in a state which has not elected a Republican to major office in 90 years.

REED is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 4. The result is your key number. At the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

2 Vehicles Collide Near Bangor

WIND GAP—Donald R. Rohn, Plainfield Twp. chief of police, Tuesday investigated a two-vehicle collision on Rt. 191 about four miles south of Bangor.

Rohn said the accident occurred at 4:15 p.m. at the intersection of Legislative Rd. 48091 (Franklin Road) in Plainfield Twp.

Police said Richard Clyde Wilgus, 21, of East Bangor, driving a truck, was entering Rt. 191 from Franklin Road when he collided with an oncoming car driven by Violet M. Field, 47, of Lebanon.

Rohn said Wilgus will be charged with failing to yield the right-of-way.
